

Prof. Dr. Thomas Skripuletz

Prof. Skripuletz received his medical doctor degree from the Hannover Medical School, Institute of Functional and Applied Anatomy, in Hannover, Germany. From 2006 to 2013, he was a resident physician in the Department of Neurology in Hannover, where he became deputy leader of the cerebrospinal fluid laboratory in 2013. Following his habilitation in neuroimmunology, Prof. Skripuletz continued to work in the CSF lab. Since 2018, he has been an associate professor in the Department of Neurology at the Hannover Medical School. Prof. Skripuletz has a training license for CSF diagnostics and neurochemistry and now heads the CSF lab at Hannover Medical School.

He published more than 160 well-cited, peer-reviewed papers and is a member of the Neuroimmunology Commission of the German Society for Neurology.