

- TGO™ tissue grayscale optimization technology automatically optimizes the image with a single button touch.

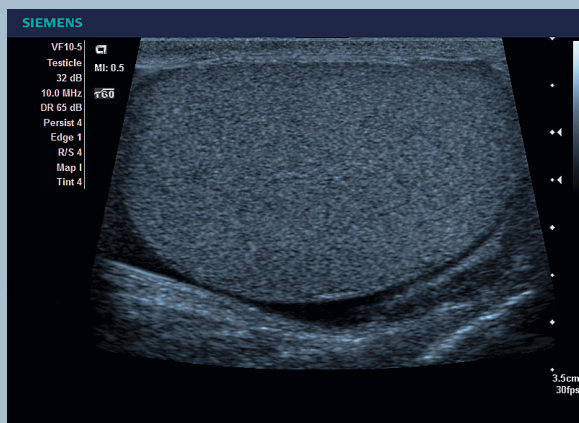

- Highly sensitive color Doppler demonstrates blood flow in the small vessels of the renal cortex.

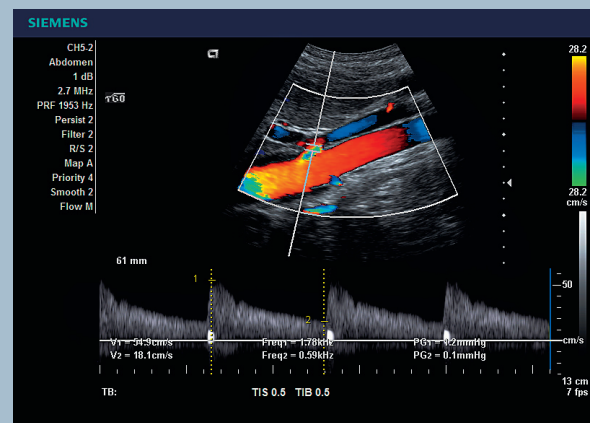

- Dual format imaging provides simultaneous display of grayscale anatomy and hemodynamics.

- Tissue Harmonic Imaging (THI) improves contrast resolution visualization of this 27-week fetal face.

- Virtual Format imaging increases the field of view allowing visualization of the entire testis.

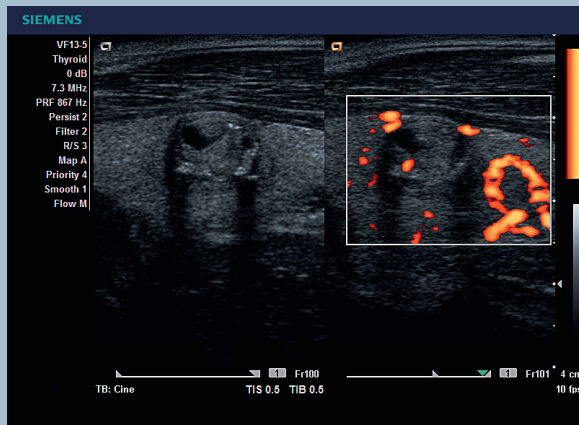

- Outstanding color and spectral Doppler sensitivity allow for easy acquisition and display of flow.

ACUSON X150™ Ultrasound System

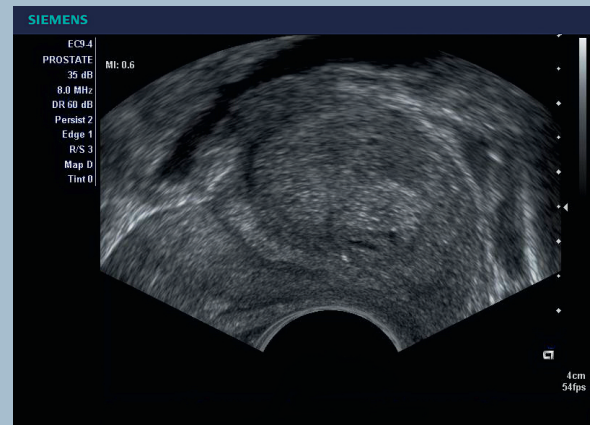

Exceptional Value – Now and in the Future

SIEMENS

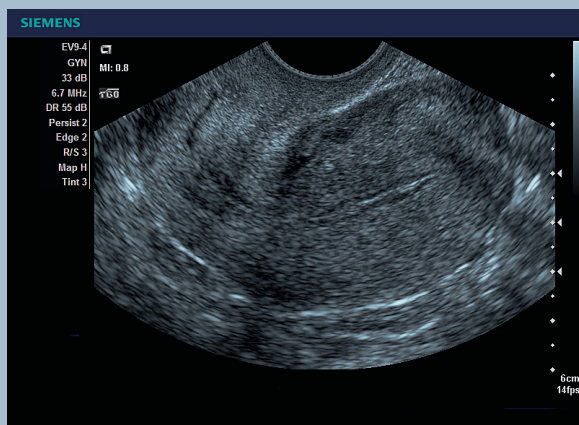

ACUSON X150 Ultrasound System

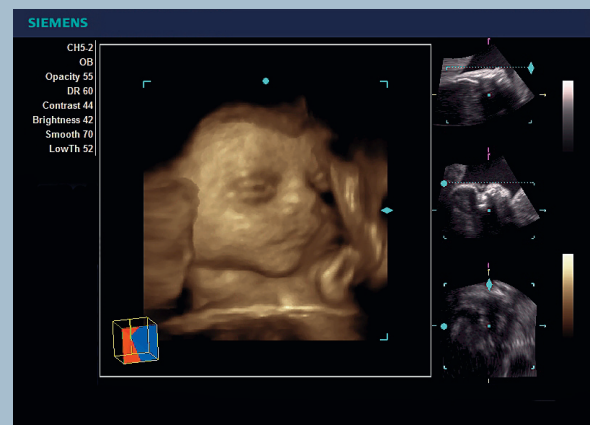

- Highly sensitive power Doppler demonstrates blood flow in these thyroid nodules. Dual imaging allows for easy comparison.

- Exceptional contrast resolution highlights subtle tissue variation within this prostate.

- Superb detail and contrast resolution clearly displays the endometrium.

- 3-Scape™ real-time 3D imaging technology for freehand 3D acquisition of the fetal face.

Standalone clinical images may have been cropped to better visualize pathology.
