

A Siemens Artis zee ceiling-mounted interventional imaging system is shown in a clinical setting. The system consists of a large, white, C-arm gantry suspended from the ceiling, which can rotate around the patient. The patient is lying on a blue padded table. To the right of the table, there are four large monitors mounted on a stand, displaying various medical images. The room has white walls and a light-colored floor. The Siemens logo is visible on the gantry.
