

Get the information
you need for your best health.

We're committed to providing the right, high-quality clinical information that meets our patients' individual needs—especially in cancer care. That's why we have a Siemens Biograph Horizon™ PET/CT system.

With PET/CT images from the Biograph Horizon, your physicians can have high-quality images with outstanding resolution. Better images can make it easier to identify small lesions earlier. And as a result, your physicians can determine the best possible treatment options that meet your specific needs.

As treatment progresses, your physicians can use our PET/CT system to monitor how well you respond to the therapy—and quickly make any necessary changes.

At <<facility name>>, we strive to provide the best possible cancer care for our patients—and having a high-quality imaging system is an important part of that mission.
