

This
is what modern medicine
looks like.

Modern medicine means different things to different people—but to us it means providing you with the best possible care. Healthcare that meets your specific needs, when you need it.

That's why we now have a new robotic C-arm in our hybrid operating room.

With its amazing versatility, the ARTIS pheno helps us perform a wide range of minimally invasive surgical procedures, enabling more efficient care. It provides outstanding image quality, giving our physicians better insights and information to help in your care.

So, when or if you need surgical care, know that we stand ready with some of the world's best technology behind us.
