

ICIS Masterclass in Imaging of Gynaecological Cancers

This ICIS Masterclass is an advanced cancer imaging course for radiologists who would like to gain deeper understanding of the imaging of gynaecological tumours. Delivered by our expert faculty who all have extensive knowledge and clinical experience of gynaecological cancers, this masterclass will comprise four sessions each focusing on a particular aspect to provide practical, relevant information for clinical practice.

In addition to diagnosis, staging and treatment, other aspects of gynaecological cancer management will be covered. In each session, an introductory lecture will be followed by mentored review of carefully selected cases, with individual workstations enabling hands-on case-based learning.

Learning objectives

- Role of imaging in the diagnosis and evaluation of gynaecological malignancy.
- To understand and apply the FIGO staging system.
- To appreciate the application of imaging in deciding treatment options for gynaecological cancers.
- To assess treatment response, complications of treatment and detection of recurrent disease.

Key Features

- Mentored case-based learning, reviewing 35-40 cases
- Each case chosen to illustrate specific learning points
- A comprehensive workbook is provided to guide participants through the cases, which will enhance the learning experience and can be retained as a valuable learning resource
