

Webinar | 2. 6. 2026, 15:00

Immunology Diagnostics as Clinical Care Evolves

Join us for an expert-led webinar featuring international specialists and explore emerging immunology use cases and opportunities for labs.

At the end of this free webinar, you will be able to:

- Understand the importance of testing in food allergy
- Assess differential diagnostics that improve accuracy in immunology, including thyroid and cytokine testing
- Evaluate immunology workflow designs, including platform considerations, that support consistent, high-quality testing at scale

The webinar will be presented in English.

 Please register and share this invite with your colleagues.

